$100,000.00 Mining Deal Zarembo Property Bonded John Paley Bonds Claims to Tacoma Smelting Co.

GIRL SCALPED

Last Monday afternoon the seven year old daughter of Adam James got her hair caught in the fly wheel of an engine on a gas boat and about 15 square inches of hair and scalp was pulled out leaving the skull bare.

The little girl was riding in the boat and accidentally got her hair caught in the wheel, she was taken ashore and Dr. Dawes was called to attend her but a skin graft will have to be made before she can improve much.

The event of the past week was the bonding of John Paley's, St. John's Harbor copper claims, to the Tacoma Smelting Co. Tacoma Wash., for $100,000.00.

The property is located on Zarembo Island about twenty miles from Wrangell and consists of five claims containing a ledge from 7 to 14 feet wide, that has been traced for about 3,000 feet and the bond includes mill site and water right.

The ore is not only valuable for its copper (6.72 per cent.) but is valuable as a smelting ore; as it contains no less than ten per cent of silica.

The ledge is at a contact between slate and green stone schist and has good walls.

Mr. Paley's early home was in Dubuque, Iowa. He came to this country about ten years ago and had, during those ten years the usual experiences of a prospector. Five years ago while prospecting for copper on Zarembo Island, he discovered and located the five claims that have proven so valuable. Just how valuable these claims are has not been determined but in the opinion of H. N. Walker, who put the deal through for the Smelting Co., Paley's Zarembo property has the famous Mt. Andrew mine "beaten a mile".

The opening up of a property like this should mean much to Wrangell and surrounding districts. It has always been admitted that there is plenty of valuable mineral deposits in Wrangell district but heretofore the glimmer of fortunes picked up in the shape of golden grains and nuggets has led many to pass by these valuable deposits but a steady increase in the number of mines opened under profitable conditions is predicted for the future. The finding of claims that a dependable firm like the Tacoma Smelting Co., is willing to take hold of, will encourage prospectors and stimulate mining interest in this section.

Fishing Party

Last Sunday, several of Wrangell's young people enjoyed a fishing trip at Conks Creek. Captain Fred Stackpole took the party down in his power sloop, Wabash. One hundred fish were caught and a good time was reported by all.

Capt. D. H. Jarvis Commits Suicide

Seattle, June 23.—Captain D. H. Jarvis, former Collector of Customs for Alaska, and for many years connected with the Guggenheims as treasurer of their Alaska companies, and at present general manager of the Northern Fisheries Company, a Booth organization, suicided during the night, at a room in the Athletic Club building, where he sent a 32 cal. bullet into his brain.

The body of Jarvis was found at noon today fully dressed, and a note stating Jarvis was fully worn out.

Jarvis is survived by a widow and several children, who live in a handsome Capitol Hill residence, which Jarvis left two days ago to live at the club building for a rest.—Alaska Dispatch.

The gas screw, "J. G. Osborne" is ready for charter by the job, day or hour at reasonable rates.

For further information, inquire of M. Osborne, owner, or W. E. Parrott, Master.

DEMENTED CHINAMAN

Last Thursday evening, Woo Gung How, an insane Chinaman, was brought to Wrangell in the Alaska Chief. Woo Gung How has been in the employ of the Shakan Canning Co., of Shakan, and had gradually grown insane since coming up to the cannery this season.

On Sunday, U. S. Marshall, Collins, and Chief Deputy Office Marshall, McLain, took him aboard the City of Seattle and will take him to Mt. Tabor, near Portland, Oregon where he will be kept if he becomes violent. In the event of his remaining harmless, he will be sent to China by the Chinese Consul, Woo Ching, of Seattle.

They report the bears thick but the mosquitoes thicker.

Post Office Changed

Chief Clerk of the Railway Mail Service, E. G. Wetzler, reports that the Indians are all leaving Klinvuan and will make Suquan their home. The Government is to take up the Klinvuan Post Office and establish one at Suquan or Fish Egg.

The establishing of the government school at Klinvuan is now believed to have been a failure as there is nothing there to support the population.

A movement is also being made to discontinue the Howkan Office.

M. of green spruce saw timber; log scale, more or less. No bid of less than one ($1.00) dollar per thousand feet B. M. will be considered and a deposit of $200.00 must be sent to W. A. Big Buck Was On

The following was copied from the Portland Oregonian.

C. G. Sutherland, assistant general manager of the O. W. R. and N., has been in Alaska for a number of weeks recuperating after a long spell of poor health. While in the North he visited Wrangell, one of the "dampest" spots on earth, and where it rains at least 13 months in the year without any particular favorites as to the months when it does rain.

"It comes down so strong up there" he says "that it makes a thirty-third degree web-footer from Oregon feel as if home was a sahara desert. It is one long continuous splash, and it is pretty hard to impress the natives in that part of the country that an outsider knows what real rain is."

"While at Wrangell one of the citizens there told me of the difficulties of missionary work among the Indians. The young evangelist had been told that one of the chief problems before the minister of the gospel was to secure and hold the attention of the average Indian, who, under ordinary conditions, is perfectly willing to go to church but is not disposed to accept everything he is told.

"The missionary thought the thing over carefully and at the first meeting told his congregation of obidigines the story of the flood how it rained for 40 days and 40 nights; until the water covered the entire earth and forced Noah to seek refuge in the ark he had built.

"As the missionary sought to point some lesson from the Biblical deluge, one big buck got up and shuffled down the aisle toward the door and muttered:

"Rain 40 day, 40 night, cover everything. Huh, heap damn lie. Rain all time Wfahgell, no flood." —Portland Oregonian.

W. Watson, of Portland, is building a river skiff and will make a prospecting trip of from 4 to 6 months. Mr. Watson was here about thirteen years ago at the time of the Klondike rush.
